REPORT OF THE Superintendent of Schools

Wells, Maine, February 1, 1940

To the Superintending School Committee of Wells, Maine:

I herewith submit to you my report of the Schools of Wells:

The School Census of April 1, 1939, showed there were 459 boys and 409 girls, a total of 868 persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years in the town on that date. There were 552 enrolled in the schools at the opening of the fall term as the following table shows:

We have had more changes in teachers this year than for some time. At the High School, Miss Elaine Dasakis was selected as the instructor to take charge of the newly established commercial course, and Mr. Roland Littlefield was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Perkins.

Miss Otis, Miss Palmer and Miss Smith resigned to accept positions in other towns. Mr. Arden Tarbox was placed in charge of the grammar room at Ogunquit; Miss Dorothy Bragdon accepted the school at Division 4; and Miss Esther West began her teaching at Division 10. The teachers who remained are faithfully carrying on the work, while the teachers new to us have after a short adaptation period justified our selection of them.

The usual yearly repairs were made. Also, the building at Division 1 was painted inside and out and the room at Divisions 6 and 7 were thoroughly renovated. In order that the commercial teacher might supervise the typewriting practice, a partition with windows was built in the large room dividing it into two rooms, one still for recitations, the other a typewriting room.

The loss of the old high school building makes necessary the construction of a new building for elementary use. Since we are compelled to incur this extra expense, I think the citizens have an unusual opportunity to improve the school system by closing at least the three rural, one-room schools along the Atlantic Highway and, by transporting the pupils to a central school, provide them with a much better education and training than can be given in the one-room school. The teaching which can be offered our children in a room with not more than two grades is attested by the successful performance of the pupils from the Ogunquit School who attend high school. It is not the fault of the teachers of these schools which maintain from six to eight grades if the pupils do not do well in high school. Neither is it the fault of the pupils from those rural schools. Rather, a low grade of work in high school is due to the inability of the teacher to do justice to so many grades in the formative periods of the child's school life and the lack of opportunity offered to the child for him to acquire a proper foundation for his high school course. A splendid chance is now offered for long range planning toward the type of school that is most efficient and helpful to the children.

Several of the teachers of elementary grades have enjoyed a series of lectures and demonstrations in the teaching of reading given by Miss Florence P. Tuttle. Miss Tuttle is a lecturer, demonstrator and author of national reputation. The fact that so many of the teachers have taken this course shows their desire for professional improvement.

Again I wish to thank the teachers for their co-operation, the members of the school committee for their assistance, and other friends of education who have given sincere help.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN S. CARVER.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF WELLS HIGH SCHOOL

Superintendent John S. Carver:

One hundred and sixty-one pupils, seventy-seven boys and eighty-four girls, were enrolled in Wells High School during the first term. Their class standing is as follows: Post Graduates, 4; Seniors, 31; Juniors, 30; Sophomores, 54; Freshman, 46.

The addition of a Commercial Course gave a much greater variety of subjects from which to choose. The following courses are now offered: College Classical, College Scientific, Manual Arts, Domestic Arts, Commercial, and General. A consultation was held with each Freshman in an effort to determine the course best suited to his individual needs.

Mr. Roland Littlefield, a graduate of Yale University, was added to the faculty this year as teacher of English and coach of football. He has proven himself to be very capable and to possess an excellent background in the field of English.

Miss Elaine Dasakis, a graduate of Bliss Business College, was added to the staff as teacher of Commercial subjects. Her work has been highly commendable and her large classes have been conducted very efficiently. A total of 135 pupils are enrolled in the classes in Bookkeeping, Typing, Shorthand, and Junior Business Training.

The school is being run on the rotated schedule, with five one hour periods in the daily schedule. One period a week is devoted to club work, and one to general activities.

Several new innovations are being tried this year with the hope that they may become a permanent part of the school program. Clubs have been introduced for the first time and meetings are held the last period each Friday. The pupils were given an opportunity to choose the club that best suited each one, and the following have been organized: Glee Club, Boy's Cooking Club, Girl's Shop Club, Hobbies Club, Commercial Club, and Science Club. Hot lunches are served each noon in the school cafeteria and are becoming very popular. Many class-room moving pictures are being used to supplement the text-book. The Senior Class is publishing a year-book which will be the first to be produced by the school.

Several extra-curricula activities of importance were the Freshman Reception, which was featured by dancing, games, and refreshments; the Annual Senior Play which was presented the first of February, and the outstanding success of the six-man football team. This team was presented a Horlick Trophy as one of the thirty leading teams in the country; and Payson Harmon was named in the All-American Honor Roll of players.

The honor roll for the first eighteen weeks is as follows: All "A" grades—Mildred Schofield, Ruth Hanson, Donald Adams; at least two "A's" and two "B's"—Hazel Davis, Virginia Goodwin, Barbara Boston; no grade below a "B"—Marion Guest, Muriel Colby, Marguerite Collins, Pauline Jamieson, Barbara Fortune, Jeffrey Power, Bettina Dalton, Barbara Galeucia, Roland Mellen, Virginia Boston, Flavia Crotty, Olive Littlefield, Shiela Tracy, Minnie Steere.

Recent graduates of Wells High School are attending the following institutions: Syracuse University, Sweet Briar College, University of Maine, Boston University, Duke University, Westbrook Junior College, Portland Junior College, Gorham Normal School, and McIntosh Business College.

Through the cooperation of all who are directly connected with the school, I feel that Wells High School has continued during the past year to hold its place among the leading secondary schools of the state.

I wish to thank the citizens of the Town of Wells, the superintending school committee, the superintendent of schools, the members of the faculty, and all who are interested in our school for their splendid cooperation and loyalty during the past year. It is my sincere hope that the year 1940-41 may be even more successful than the year 1939-40.

(Signed) A. W. COLEMAN, Principal.

MANUAL TRAINING

Superintendent John S. Carver:

The Manual Training Course started its third year this fall with an enrollment of 53 boys out of the school's 77 boys, meaning that 68 per cent are being served by the course. This is an increase of 1 per cent over last year's enrollment. The enrollment of the boys from the upper classes has remained practically as it was last year. A smaller total enrollment is due partially to the fact that the Freshman Class is smaller than usual, and partially to the introduction of a new course from which the pupils might choose subjects.

Last fall a course in Mechanical Drawing was introduced so that every boy has a working knowledge of the tools used in the making of mechanical drawings. This course, as a by-product, helps to teach the reading of drawings. Nine weeks of the fall term was devoted to Mechanical Drawing.

A new idea is being tried out in the Shop. Namely, a Girls Shop Club. This fall, various clubs were organized, among them the Girls Shop Club. The girls from the upper classes come into the shop once each week for 1 hour. Some of the work that has been done includes: leather purses, key cases, wooden belts with leather thongs, wooden album covers, plant stands, bric-a-brac shelves, and other similar small projects, all done with hand tools.

As regards to the projects which are being made by the regularly enrolled pupils, there are the required projects of the Freshman which include the fundamental hand tool processes. The projects for the upper classes are very similar to those of last year which many of the townspeople saw at the exhibition held at Graduation time. For the benefit of those who weren't able to see them, they include: radio stands, puzzle boards, a chinese-checker game, a piano bench, a maple chest, book cabinets, wall shelves, a unit for electrifying a pasture fence, a wheelbarrow and many others. We have also repaired several rural school desks which have been brought in.

Again I am most happy to be able to report that we have not had a serious accident with either the hand or the power tools, and I certainly hope that our good record in that respect may continue to be spotless.

I wish to thank every one who has had any part of the responsibility of making this course possible for the children of this town.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) MONROE BEAN.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

January 30, 1940

I hereby submit my report for the Commercial Department, 1939-1940. Enrollment by divisions:

	No.
Bookkeeping	67
Stenography	23
Typewriting	32
Junior Business Training	13
Making a total of	135

Being a new department I would like to give briefly a few aims and accomplishments of each division.

First: Here are the expected results of Bookkeeping which distinguish it from other courses.

(a) The student should be able to keep such accounts as are necessary in taking care of his or her own personal income and expenditures.

(b) Should be able to keep proper records for necessary transactions in running a home.

(c) Should be able to keep such books as are kept by treasurers of school associations, any church society, clubs, or any similar organization.

(d) Should be able to understand the part which book-keeping plays in business life.

(e) Should be able to decide whether or not they should go on with the study of vocational bookkeeping.

(f) Should know as much bookkeeping as will be necessary in most junior business positions.

A careful study of these expected results of this course should convince you that it has real value for everyone. This value is immediate.

A new book has been introduced with the introducing of the shorthand. This is the Functional Method. It is proving most successful. At the time of this writing the majority of the class is writing 80 words a minute on practiced material. The aim of the course is to develop a fair degree of skill in reading and writing, and to lay a foundation, for rapid and accurate transcription on the typewriter. Those seniors taking the course for one year, will, I know be able to take a certain amount of dictation that will be of real benefit to them in seeking employment after finishing this course. Plans have been made to enter the class in a Shorthand Contest sponsored by the Gregg Writer, a shorthand magazine.

In the study of typewriting, the primary aim is the development of typing power for personal or vocational use. A few secondary aims are as follows:

(a) The development of fundamental technique for the control of the keyboard and the machine parts.

(b) The development of the habit of accuracy in typing and in proof-reading material.

(c) The development of facility in the use of effective written speech.

(d) The development of a feeling for the correct spelling and syllabication of words, and last but by no means least, the development of desirable social attitudes, business habits and tact.

The budget letters have already begun by several students. This consists of a group of letters to be typed perfect and an original cover to be made on the machine.

Speed tests will be given at least once a week and certificates will be awarded to those typing 30 words a minute, for 10 minutes with five errors or less.

The Junior Business Training class has proved to be a most interesting group as a great part of the time is given to class discussion.

Although not definitely vocational this course may be regarded as the first step in commercial education for those who choose a business career. It is equally valuable for those who still are undecided as to what should be their vocational choice, as it affords them certain elemental try out experience in handling every day business transactions.

I would like to extend my sincere appreciation to all those who made this course possible and an invitation to parents and friends to visit a class at any time.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ELAINE DASAKIS.

MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Superintendent John S. Carver,

Dear Sir:

I am submitting my second annual report as Music Supervisor in the schools of Wells.

My program of work has been primarily the same as that of last year. I have continued note reading, note singing, holiday and community songs and work with rhythm bands has been carried on where circumstances permitted. Music appreciation has also been included in the program for the upper grades.

At Christmas time several of the schools presented operettas and I assisted in the preparation of these.

At the High School work with the orchestra has been continued and also a class in chorus singing for all those girls and boys who elected music.

Again I would like to express my appreciation for the help and co-operation I have received from you, Mr. Carver, the school board members, the teachers and all the parents it has been my privilege to meet.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET E. ELLIS.

HOME ECONOMICS

To Superintendent Carver:

I submit the following report of the Home Economics Department of Wells High School for the year of 1939-1940.

The school opened with thirty-four pupils being enrolled. Eleven were in the Freshmen class, sixteen in the Sophomore class, and seven in the combined Junior and Senior group.

The course offered this year followed in general the pattern of last year, although a few new units were included.

The Junior and Senior group were given this fall a short course in advanced food preparation and meal planning. This unit aims to further develop in the student the ability to prepare more complicated foods and to plan better well-balanced and nutritious meals.

A new unit "Consumer Education" was given after the food's course. This unit aims to help the students to become more efficient buyers.

The year's work will be completed with an advanced study of clothing construction principles and a study of interior decoration in which the pupil studies house plans and problems of home furnishings.

The Sophomore class began the year with a study of canning principles. The class canned fruits and vegetables, made jelly, and at the completion of the unit the results of their labors were put on exhibition in one of the store windows.

A course in food preparation followed this. This course centered around the luncheon meal; the child gained ideas and practice in the making of luncheon dishes. After the completion of the food's course the class prepared and served a five course meal to members of the School Board.

After the completion of the above course a unit in child care and guidance was offered. This deals with the caring of children from the infant to the school age.

The remainder of the year will be spent in studying textiles and in the making of clothing problems more advanced and more difficult than encountered in the first year of sewing.

The Freshmen course considered first beginning foods; this centered around the preparation and serving of breakfasts.

A course in "First Aid" followed. The student learned simple bandaging, and the aid that should be given in case of accidents either in the home or out of the home. Along with this course was given a unit in "Home Nursing." This latter course helps to fit the child to adequately care for minor sickness in the home. The spring term will be spent in sewing. Simple problems will be made in which the fundamental clothing principles will be first learned.

Contrary to general belief the Home Economic Course deals not only with sewing and cooking, but with many problems which the child will face in the role of a homemaker. This course endeavors to equip the child so he may successfully meet and cope with these problems. The aim is for general all round development along this line.

During the summer many new reference books were added to the department library and minor changes were made in some of the equipment.

I wish to thank Superintendent Carver and the members of the School Board who have been so cooperative throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

EVELYN WHITELEY.

Each year new pupils entering are found to have defects, although many pre-school children had their defects corrected before entering school this year. There are a few children in high school with defects that they have had all through their school years.

Diphtheria Toxoid has been given to 2 Adults, 3 Pre-school and 5 school children; while 20 children received the immunization dose for protection against whooping cough.

A mid-morning milk lunch was provided for 22 children from March to June. This year a hot noon lunch is being served at High School, and since this is also available for those children housed at the High School since the destruction of their building by fire, provision has been made for free lunches for 15 children.

The Well Baby Conferences, scheduled for the second Thursday afternoon of each month are being well attended. Conferences will be held in the Selectmen's office at Wells Town Hall from 2 to 4 P. M. until other suitable place is announced.

Early diagnosis and prevention of tuberculosis is one of the chief objects of our Spring program. The Tuberculin test will be given to any High School or Grammar School children who are willing to take it. Adults recommended by their physicians, or who have been contacts of Tuberculin patients will be offered the same opportunity for diagnosis and prevention as the school children. The tests are followed by chest X-rays for all those that react to the test, and a check up by a specialist. Arrangements are being made for the State Nutritionist to be ready to discuss recommendations as made by the specialist with the family of the children.
